

Boating World

February
2007

Currents News And Notables

By Kim Purcell

FEARLESS DESIGNS

Luxury boat manufacturer Fearless Yachts and internationally renowned Porsche Design Studio/Austria have collaborated to build an exclusive new collection of ultra high-end custom luxury boats and yachts for the marine industry.

"We are combining this discipline with our passion for excellence in order to offer access to an unprecedented design and lifestyle for today's modern explorer," says Fearless Yachts CEO James Binder.

The sleek and stylish brand will launch its first 28-foot boat in February at the Miami Boat Show. The boat will feature a seamless hull with European curves like a high performance luxury vehicle. "The luxury of owning a Fearless Yacht could only be compared to the lifestyle of international jet setter James Bond," says Binder.

Together, Fearless Yachts and Porsche Design Studio will launch a collection of boats and yachts from 28 to 150 feet over the next three years at the Miami and Monaco boat shows. For more information, visit www.fearlessyachts.com or www.porsche-design.com.